

Stormfront > International > Stormfront Britain > Culture and History
Refuting the Afrocentric

User Name Remember Me? ☐
Password

Donate Register Blogs ▼ FAQ Community ▼ Calendar Today's Posts Search ▼

Listen live weekdays 9:00-11:00am ET
to Stormfront with Don Black & Roy.

Today's guest second hour: Canadian activist Paul Fromm

Archives of previous shows.

Contributions
in January

Seven Days Left!

Post Reply

Page 1 of 2 1 2 > ▼

LinkBack ▼ Thread Tools ▼ Search this Thread ▼ Display Modes ▼

07-29-2008, 11:56 AM

#1

Hyperboreanar

Account Inactive

Join Date: Jul 2008

Location: Hyperborea

Posts: 296

Refuting the Afrocentric

Refuting Afrocentric lies

Basically this will be my essay which debunks all Afrocentric claims on Britian. I may add to this over periods of time.

Various Afrocentrics claim the ancient Picts/Celts/Britons/Anglo-saxons of Britian were originally black or dark skinned migrants of African descent.

Afrocentric Lie One - The Picts were dark skinned.

The Picts were a number or confederation of tribes who inhabited central and northern scotland (Pictland) until about the 10th century AD. These tribes included the "Caledonii" (Caledonians), Verturiones, Taexali and Venicones.

Because of the lack of written descriptions from ancient sources of the Picts other then the fact they "painted themselves" Afrocentrics have claimed they were black or dark skinned Africans. However according to the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle (9th century AD):

"the Picts came from Scythia"

The ancient Scythians were known as a white race to the ancient Greeks. Herodotus in his 'Histories' (440BC) described the Scythians:

"they have all deep blue eyes, and bright red hair" (Histories, 4. 108)

Tacitus wrote in his 'Agricola' (98AD) described the Pictish Caledonii:

"The reddish hair and large limbs of the Caledonians" (Agricola, Chapter 11)

Tacitus claimed the Picts (Caledonii) were most likely of a "German Origin"

(Agricola, Chapter 11).

Conclusion regarding the Picts:

They were a red haired, light eyed and pale skinned tribe from either Scythia or Germany.

Afrocentric Lie Two - The Celts were "Black"

Afrocentrics base their claims on Celtic bynames (surnames or nicknames) such as "dark" or "black" which they believe related to dark skin. Indeed in Ireland ancient Britian "black" as a byname was quite popular. It simply related to "black-smith". Many ancient Celts were blacksmiths and their name "black" related to this job. In Central England the word "Smith" is better known as a surname which also relates to the Celtic (or later Anglo-Saxon) blacksmiths.

Afrocentric Lie Three - Scotland was originally called "Black Land"

Afrocentrics claim Scotland originally was called "Black Land" (you can read of how they somehow concluded this from various nutjob Afrocentric websites).

The Truth?

The earliest name for Scotland (and the whole of the British Isles) was Albion which meant "white land" or "white island".

From Encyclopedia Britannica:

"Albion...the earliest-known name for the island of Britian...The name Albion has been translated as "white land".

Afrocentric Lie Four - Black Africans were invited to England

Afrocentrics quote Geoffrey of Monmouth's "history of the kings of britian" (finished in 1136) which claims an 'African King' (called Gormund or Gormond) and his people were invited to England by the Anglo-Saxons. Geoffrey does not call the African King Gormund or any of his people dark or black and in later writings Gormund was identified as a Vandal King. The Vandals were of Germanic descent who migrated to Africa. Gormund therefore was not Black.

Afrocentric Lie Five - Black Giants built Stonehenge

Afrocentrics quote Geoffrey of Monmouths same "history of the kings of britian", from which the story of stonehenge is told as having built by giants from Africa. The giants however are not described (so Afrocentrics have no evidence these giants were black or negroid) and therefore the giants could have been African Vandals (who as mentioned above were of germanic-european descent).

07-30-2008, 11:33 AM

#2

Hyperboreanar

Account Inactive

Join Date: Jul 2008

Location: Hyperborea

Posts: 296

 Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

continued...

Afrocentric Lie Six - Thorfinn the earl of Orkney was black

Thorfinn Sigurdsson (1009-1064AD) was an earl of Orkney. Afrocentrics claim Thorfinn was of black african descent because he was known as "Thorfinn the Black".

However, the Norse 'Orkneyinga Saga' (9-12 century AD) explains how Thorfinn got the nickname or byname "black":

"He was unusually (very) tall and strong, an ugly-looking man with a black head of hair"

Afrocentrics only use the "black head" of the above quote to incorrectly conclude Thorfinn was black faced (skinned). The truth is that he only had black hair - hence his name "black".

Afrocentric Lie Seven - Kenneth the Niger was a black man

Kenneth MacAlpin who was also known as Kenneth the Niger or Kenneth Dubh (810 - 858AD) was king of the Picts and the first king of Scotland (the Kingdom of Alba).

Because Kenneth was known as "Kenneth the Niger" meaning "black" many Afrocentrics claim Kenneth was a black man or negro. However Kenneth was most certianly not black skinned because he named his people Fir Alban meaning "the men of Alba". The word Alba translates as "white" meaning Kenneth named his people "the men of the white".

Afrocentric Lie Eight - Black and Dark Elves

In Celtic, Anglo-Saxon (Germanic) and Norse mythology Black and dark elves are a well appearing race. In norse myth the black or dark elves are known as the svartalfar (black elves) or dokkalfar (dark elves). In Shetlandic and Orkney folklore the dark elves are known as "Drows". In Celtic myth especially Scottish Gaelic the terms appear "daoi-sith" (dark elves) and du-sith (black elves).

The Afrocentrics claim the dark and black elves were based on black africans and that the dark or black elves are evidence of blacks as having existed in Britian or Norther Europe.

Firstly it must be noted the black and dark elves had dark skin. Acording to the Norse Eddas the skin of the black/dark elves was "as black as pitch". However of course these beings were mythological however the Norse equated them in their mythological world setting to real places.

The Norse claimed the "light elves" (who had white/fair skin) lived in Alfhiem. According to the Norse Ynglinga Saga Alfhiem (12th century AD) Alfhiem was located in Sweden. (the anglo-saxons also located the light elves home to the far north). In contrast to the northern location of Alfhiem the home of the dark or black elves was "Svartalfheimr" which was located to the south/underworld of the world tree - yggdrasil. The norse in conclusion did not believe the dark/black elves lived in Northern Europe (unlike the light elves who they equated to Sweden) and so Afrocentrics can not claim an early negroid presence in northern europe or britian.

Afrocentric Lie Nine - "Black Vikings"

The Vikings as many know invaded England as early as 793AD, eventually they took posession of most of england (the Danelaw). Afrocentrics claim some of these Vikings who came to england were negroes.

They base their claims on old Viking literature such as the Vinland Sagas (written around the 8-9th century AD).

A certain Viking is described in the Vinland Sagas as "swarthy (skinned)" and a "giant" his name was Thorhall. Afrocentrics interpret the "swarthy" as being "black skinned".

The truth (as any dictionary will confirm) is that swarthy means "either dark (tanned) or black skinned". Thorhall therefore could easily have been just a brownier skinned (tanned) viking or a viking of mediterenean stock (however the latter is most unlikely). In conclusion regarding Thorhall, his "swarthy" skin can not be proven as being black skin, he could have easily of been simply light brown tanned (like many southern europeans are).

Afrocentric lie Ten - "Black Basques"

In recent years scholars and archeologists have proclaimed an early basque population presence in Britian, perhaps even before the Celts. Afrocentrics quote early Roman sources on the Basques such as the writings of Tacitus.

The Afrocentrics quote a line of Tacitu's 'Agricola':

"the swarthy (dark) faces of the silures (basques)..the tendency of their hair to curl" (Agricola, chapter 11)

Again Afrocentrics immediately interpret the word swarthy to black - in relation to the very dark skin of a Black African. When the truth is the word swarthy means "dark" and could easily have meant a tanned skin complexion of a mediterenean. Indeed the Silures (baques) who came from Spain were mostly related to mediterenean stock.

Afrocentrics also interpret Tacitus's mention of the basques hair "curl" as having meant the "wooly" hair of a negro. However Tacitus wrote "the tendency of their hair to curl" implying their hair was not naturally curly unlike the hair of a negro (which is naturally wooly and non-straight).

08-06-2008, 11:20 AM

#3

Gordon of Khartoum

Forum Member

Join Date: Jan 2006
Location: In the Sudan , fighting the Mhadi armed with a Bible and walking stick ...
Posts: 898

Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

If negroids are so clever and advanced, why was Africa built of mud huts, and farms worked with wooden ploughs until the white man got there?

You are wasting your time trying to reason with Negroids. Their IQ is so poor they cannot understand you; they are incapable of rational thought.

08-06-2008, 03:45 PM

#4

ΔΕΥΚ?Σ ΕΘΝΙΚΙΟΤ?Σ

Forum Member

Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

All blacks are mimics,caricatures of OUR white invented nature,trained to preform the tasks WE require,and when left to their own devises become sullen,dangerous,aggressive and violent,like any other jungle creature left unattended.

Join Date: Jan 2008
Location: off the reservation
Posts: 5,848

08-06-2008, 06:12 PM

#5

TruthFinder

Forum Member

Join Date: Dec 2004
Location: Laughing in the face of diversity
Posts: 4,698

Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

We all, from time to time, come across people that are white/left who peddle this nonsense. Having a thread of reference to at least try and shut them up or make them look fools is worthwhile.

Perhaps Hyperboreanar is wasting his time, but not because of blacks, because of whites who have closed minds.

TF

08-07-2008, 06:20 AM

#6

Ealdham

Forum Member

Join Date: May 2005
Location: Eltham, South
London
Posts: 4,964

Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

If for no other reason than the type of morons who peddle and believe these myths blow a braincell when they are refuted with evidence, this is a very worthwhile thread. Thanks Hyperboreanar!

08-30-2008, 12:04 PM

#7

Darmoe

Forum Member

Join Date: Aug 2008
Location: Western
Massachusetts
Posts: 1

Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

I just wanted to thank you for this posting. I just visited http://stewartsynopsis.com/europe_co...y_africans.htm and thought I was going to spew my coffee all over the place, especially when this intellect stated that the reason "Knights" were called such was because they were black.

I'm far from being a bigot, but this is simply Bull Crap!

Thank you so much for printing some FACTUAL and actually RESEARCHED perspectives. 😊🍺😊

11-18-2008, 06:24 PM

#8

TheTollundMan

Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

Forum Member

Join Date: Nov 2008
Posts: 1

Good to see you are filling others out on this subject. I may do an article on refuting the afrocentric claim about the African origins of the Olmec.

11-19-2008, 04:58 AM

#9

Ravenhook

Forum Member

Join Date: Mar 2008
Location: Wiltshire, England
Posts: 6,427

Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

Shock Horror...News Just in

Not one black face on the bayeaux tapestry...if the negroids were in such large quantities in the middle ages, then why arn't there any defending the homeland in 1066.

Prehaps they only game out in the Dark ages...wait a mo...no the Romans would have noted that.

Bugger, the negroids wishfull thinking has been shot in the foot, never mind, prehaps they can try it on with another country....try Australia, I'd pay good money to see them argue it out with an Aussie.

11-24-2008, 03:08 PM

#10

Archimime

User Awaiting Email Confirmation

Join Date: Mar 2008
Posts: 197

Re: Refuting the Afrocentric

Quote:

Originally Posted by Darmoe

*I just wanted to thank you for this posting. I just visited http://stewartsynopsis.com/europe_co...y_africans.htm and thought I was going to spew my coffee all over the place, especially when this intellect stated that the reason "Knights" were called such was because they were black.

I'm far from being a bigot, but this is simply Bull Crap!

Thank you so much for printing some FACTUAL and actually RESEARCHED perspectives.

Night:

Quote:

O.E. niht (W.Saxon neaht, Anglian næht, neht), the vowel indicating that the modern word derives from oblique cases (gen. nihte, dat. niht), from P.Gmc. nakht-* (cf. O.H.G. naht, O.Fris., Du., Ger. nacht, O.N. natt, Goth. nahts), from PIE nok(w)t-* (cf. Gk. nuks "a night," L. nox, O.Ir. nochd, Skt. naktam "at night," Lith. naktis "night," O.C.S. nosti, Rus. noch', Welsh henoid "tonight"). For spelling with -gh- see fight.

- "Night" (Online Etymology Dictionary)

Knight:

Quote:

O.E. cnicht "boy, youth, servant," common W.Gmc. (cf. O.Fris. kniucht, Du. knecht, M.H.G. kneht "boy, youth, lad," Ger. Knecht "servant, bondsman, vassal"), of unknown origin. Meaning "military follower of a king or other superior" is from c.1100. Began to be used in a specific military sense in Hundred Years War, and gradually rose in importance through M.E. period until it became a rank in the nobility 16c.

- "Knight" (Online Etymology Dictionary)

Bookmarks

« On this day Oct 2nd: Death of Bert Eriksson. | On this day Oct 3rd: German unification. »

Posting Rules

You may not post new threads
You may not post replies
You may not post attachments
You may not edit your posts

BB code is On Smilies are On
[\[IMG\]](#) code is On
HTML code is Off
Trackbacks are On Pingbacks are On Refbacks are On

Forum Rules

Similar Threads

Thread	Thread Starter	Forum	Replies	Last Post
Afrocentric munf manipulation	A scared canadian citizen	Canadian News	1	02-04-2011 01:41 PM
Afrocentric school for Toronto	Saxon_Realm	Newslinks & Articles	9	01-31-2008 10:54 AM
Schools Consider Afrocentric Curriculum	vikinglord	Newslinks & Articles	17	02-17-2006 03:31 AM
segregated afrocentric schools	VLC	Education and Homeschooling	14	12-28-2005 12:52 PM

Listen!

Dr. David Duke

One Man Who Dares to Speak Truth!

All times are GMT -4. The time now is 05:09 PM.

-- White Liquid

Contact Us - Martinlutherking.org - Stormfront - Top

Content Copyrighted ©1995-2013 by Stormfront
PO Box 6637, West Palm Beach FL 33405
Telephone: 561-833-0030

Powered by vBulletin
Copyright ©2000 - 2014, Jelsoft Enterprises Ltd.
Page generated in 0.21210 seconds with 10 queries